At GIA, gems endure even more pressure.

Science and discovery underpins everything we do. Since 1931, the Gemological Institute of America® has been unearthing the truth about gems and creating industry standards. With unwavering commitment to accurate and unbiased methodologies, our dedicated research staff advances the knowledge the industry and consumers need to protect confidence in gems and jewelry. Our discoveries are one of the many reasons why GIA is the world's foremost authority on diamonds, colored stones and pearls.

Looking Ahead

Olivier Felicio,
Editor-in-Chief

As many of us take a quick pause to reflect on the past year, we can all agree that technical innovation is something we can't ignore. From standing out in the crowd to devising new ways to attract customers to creating new, social media strategies—there's never been a better time to think about reinvention.

This is something Darrell King, CEO of Gunther Mele, knows well. Leading a company that's 160 years old into the modern world is no easy feat. Although King and his team have refocused their packaging company on custom retail displays, it wasn't enough for his team to simply let customers imagine their designs. With the creation of a new design app, King and his sales team can now let retailers see – in real time – what their displays will look like. For King, it's about staying ahead of the game in an ever-changing, and immediate landscape.

At Canadian Jeweller Magazine, we're also looking ahead to 2019 where we will be launching some new and exciting features to help industry retailers connect with each other. As of February, the CJ Buyers' Guide will get a makeover and will be transforming into an online marketplace. This will be an exciting platform where companies can have their own profile, connect with their social media, update videos and pictures, and accept orders.

Although making adjustments in business can be challenging, we hope that you will join us in our venture, and be a part of a community that will benefit through connectivity and change.

Awards of Excellence 2019

Are you the best of the best?

The competition has evolved!

it is no longer possible to ignore the significance of social media on the jewellery industry. Now, the first round of the Excellence Awards will require you to post images with detailed descriptions of three products of your choice that you feel best to represent your brand. You must post the images on your Facebook or/and Instagram page, tag in the post Canadian Jeweller, and use #awardsofexcellence and #canadianjewellers as well as the hashtag that represents your category the best.

The posts with the most likes and engagements will be nominated and entered for the second round of the competition, where Canadian Jeweller experts will professionally judge the nominated profiles and choose a winner.

Why should you participate in the competition?

In addition, to the exposure you will receive from having your products featured in the magazine and on our website, you will also have the opportunity to offer your AOE piece for auction at The Great Jewellery Heist, a prestigious event held in support of Bridgepoint Active Healthcare, which will further enhance your brand awareness and raise money for a great cause. A tax receipt will be provided for donated pieces that are accompanied by a third-party appraisal for fair market value, as per CRA guidelines.

Please Note You will have to state the category that your line belongs to in the details of your submission/post. A list of the categories is provided below:

- Retail Brand of the Year - #cjretailbrand
- Best Canadian Diamond Design - #cjdiamonddesign
- Industry Innovation of the Year - #cjinnovation
- Jewellery Manufacturer of the Year - #cjmanufacturer

Refining with United PMR, Inc.

United PMR, Inc. is a primary refiner processing GOLD, SILVER, PLATINUM and PALLADIUM.

They specialize in refining for the jewellery industry, processing everything from scrap to polishing sweeps. From the smallest karated scrap lot to the largest, their advanced technology provides their customers the maximum returns, with the most competitive charges, on karated and dental scrap, crucibles and slag, silver scrap, polishings/tort filters, filings and grindings, tools, carpet, sludge, floor and bench sweeps, and stone removal and frosting. Casting grains, wire and solder are also available in Gold, Silver, Platinum and Palladium as well as in Brass and Bronze for sample lines and costume jewellery. United PMR, Inc. offers numerous Settlement Options such as check/wire transfer, products, Fine Gold bars or coins and pool accounts.

For over 30 years, United PMR has specialized in refining low grade materials for the jewellery industry. From polishings, filings and grindings to bench sweeps and floor sweeps, United PMR, Inc. can refine these low grade materials for precious metal recovery. They also process byproducts such as used crucibles and slag, sink sludge - where precious metals can be trapped in the sludge, and carpeting from your shop - which can often catch dust containing precious metals from polishings and sweeps.

Check out their website at www.unitedpmr.com for an online offer of $25 off your first refining lot!

United PMR, Inc. also offers Stone Removal. Their process is accurate, safe and fast! Frosting services are also available upon request. Once your merchandise is received, United PMR, Inc. takes great care in the accuracy of weighing your lot. Your precious metals and stones are always under the surveillance of a video security camera to provide peace of mind that your returns are protected.

Stones are carefully removed from your scrap Gold through a non-destructive process which allows for a safe return of your Diamonds, CZ's, Moissanite and most harder colored stones. After the gemstone removal process is complete, your stones are carefully cleaned, inspected, weighed and packaged for shipping.

Their special combination of technology, prompt service and several settlement options has made many of our customers refer to them as the "Refiner of Choice".
